

Jodie Werder (PCC)

Head of Coaching and Leadership Development

Jodie is a skilled Executive and Leadership Coach with a demonstrated record of building powerful coaching partnerships across dynamic private and public sector organisations, locally and internationally.

Jodie's passion for coaching was inspired through many years of creative collaboration with leaders at all levels, energised by leaders willing to observe and evaluate their ongoing leadership contribution and its enduring impact.

Jodie's career experiences cross diverse industries and geographies, as a trusted advisor to executives and leaders in organisations grappling with complex business and culture change agendas. Highlights include London Underground's public private partnership initiative, large scale business alignment and optimisation programs (Lenovo and Virgin Australia), organisational culture transformation (QTC) and the most ambitious superannuation fund merger in Australian history (Australian Retirement Trust).

As co-founder of WTG Consulting, Jodie is passionate about unearthing the inherent leadership potential in all contributors, inviting conscious examination of the interactions between an individual's sense of self, the organisational system they operate within, and how they choose to respond to the demands of modern leadership in a predictably complex and uncertain world. Jodie specialises in custom design and facilitation of leadership development programs.
